EVENING BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVENING, SEPT. 2, 1857.

BY THE FAIR GROUND LINE.
FROM OUR OWN REPORTER.

Proceedings on the Fair Grounds this Morning.

FAIR GROUNDS, Sept. 2.

The attendance to-day is fully twice as great as yesterday. Every seat in the amphitheatre is filled, while the grounds are thronged. The display in the Floral Hall is superb, and attracts wonder and admiration. This morning has been devoted to Ayrshire and Hereford cattle. During the afternoon several fine rings of horses will be shown. Those for the saddle are to be exhibited late in the evening.

The U. S. Army band from Newport barracks, probably the finest in the West, is delighting the crowd with its delightful music.

A number of notabilities have arrived.

The prospects for a brilliant week are greater than ever. We may sum up the weather with one adjective—delicious.

We copy an article from the London News in regard to the difficulty existing between Spain and Mexico. It makes no allusion whatever to the clergy of Mexico, who have played no unimportant part in this matter to avenge themselves on Comofort. A letter from Washington says:—

"The last news from Madrid is not favorable to a settlement of the difficulties between Spain and Mexico. But it is hardly possible that the dispute can proceed to the length of a war. Spain is in no condition to attack Mexico, and if she were, could not hope to reconquer the country. She could wage hostilities in no other way than by an invasion, and it is a fact which no Spanish Statesman can overlook, that the occupation of any part of the soil of Mexico by a Spanish army, would be the signal of active interference by the United States. The latest intelligence from Mexico clearly shows that government and people both look with confidence to this country for aid even in anticipation of hostilities, and they are willing to assign to this Republic important privileges, and even a further slice of national territory, for a present supply of cash. I continue of the opinion that this disagreement will be settled at Rome, and will result in restoring to the clergy some portion of the privileges of which they have been deprived by the firmness and energy of Comofort."

IMPORTANT EXPEDITION.—Exploration of the Colorado River.—On the 5th inst., Lieut. J. C. Ives, under orders from the Secretary of War, will leave New York for San Francisco, to make preparations at the latter place for an exploring expedition up the Colorado river. Lieut. Ives takes with him a small steamer, to be employed in making hydrographic surveys. A party of some forty or fifty men will be enlisted in California.

This is one of the most important movements for some time undertaken by the government. Little or nothing is known of the Colorado, of its fitness for navigation, or the country through which it runs, although it is the second river in size west of the Rocky Mountains.

Lieut. Ives will ascend the river as far as possible in his steamer, and then endeavor to reach the headwaters with horses and pack mules.

Money matters are pretty tight in New York. The Courier and Enquirer of Monday says: "The extreme difficulty of negotiating business paper is more apparent than before. Strictly prime paper can be passed in small sums only. Some of the banks discounted yesterday about three-fourths their average or ordinary amount—but the quantity of business paper unavailable is very large. We cannot mention rates of discount with any approach to current quotations. The minimum to-day is 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 per month; but there is a large amount of good paper that is refused even at 2 1/2 to 3 per cent or still higher."

ONLY ONE CONSTITUTION TO BE SUBMITTED TO THE PEOPLE OF MINNESOTA.—The St. Paul Times of the 29th says, the conference committee appointed by the two wings of the Convention to unite upon a Constitution for the new State of Minnesota, made a report in their respective branches of the Convention on the 28th, which was adopted on the 29th.

Matters will be definitely settled, and there will be but one Constitution submitted to the people.—The two Conventions were to have adjourned on the 31st.

DEATHS IN THE NAVY.—The Navy Department has received intelligence of the death of Commodore Stephen Cassin. He died at Georgetown.

Commodore Cassin has been in the naval service fifty-seven years. He entered in 1800, and was on the retired list at the time of his death. He commanded the Ticonderoga, under Commodore McDonough, on Lake Champlain, in 1814.

Intelligence has also reached the Department, through private sources, of the death of Lieut. Wm. H. Cheever, of the U. S. ship St. Lawrence, at Rio Janeiro, on the 13th of last month.

The bark Express, on board of which were discovered upwards of forty-eight thousand smuggled cigars on Wednesday last, by the New York Custom House officers, was seized on a charge of having been caught in the act of violating the revenue laws of the United States, in attempting to smuggle foreign goods into the port. The goods seized on board of her amount to several hundred dollars in value.

ARREST FOR FORGING LAND WARRANTS.—The Commissioner of Pensions has been informed of the re-arrest and confinement in jail, to await trial, of Jas. R. Buchanan, of Jacksonville, Ark., for forging bounty land warrants.

The Pension Bureau has also received official information of the conviction, sentence, and imprisonment of Charles B. Miner, at Hartford, Conn., for forging bounty land claims.

The Attorney General has decided that the Postmaster General is the only officer under the laws of Congress authorized to take into possession any money robbed or stolen from the mails, and pay it to the rightful owner whenever satisfactory proof thereof shall be made.

Gilbert Motier de Lafayette was born on the 6th of September, 1757. The centennial anniversary of his birth will occur on Sunday next. It has been suggested that the clergy throughout the country prepare and preach an appropriate sermon on that day.

Mrs. Bateman's new comedy of the Golden Calf was produced for the first time at one of the theaters in St. Louis on Monday night, with great success.

THE ATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Notwithstanding the present failure in laying the Atlantic Telegraph, the English press generally speaks in confident terms of ultimate success. The following extracts will serve to show the general tone:

(From the London Star.)

Loss Consequent upon the Failure.—The real cause of accident to the Atlantic cable appears to have arisen from some want of skill on the part of the men in charge of the break. Two men on board the Niagara, who had charge of the breaks in turn, under the superintendence of Mr. Bright, the engineer. The first and best breakman had retired from his task, and the man who succeeded him did not sufficiently account for the pitching of the vessel and putting the "dead end" on, and when the stern of the Niagara was in the trough of the sea the suddenness of the recoil broke the cable. It is now thought that, in any future experiments, relays of breakmen will be necessary, so as to avoid the chance of their being overworked or becoming exhausted. It is estimated that the outside loss the company will sustain in consequence of the failure will be $25,000. The experiment, as an experiment, has given general satisfaction. It is fully expected that at least one-half of the 335 miles now in the Atlantic will be recovered. All that is within 400 fathoms will be got up, but that part in deep sea at 1,700 fathoms will, in all probability, not be recovered, as it is considered that the strain put on by the friction of the water will be greater than the cable in the deep sea could bear. This cable will, it is understood, be forthwith hauled up.

(From the London News, Aug. 12.)

Causes and Incidents of the Failure.—Sanguine Hopes.—The first attempt to connect the New World with the Old by means of the Submarine Telegraph has proved a failure. In this result there is much cause for immediate regret—none for permanent discouragement. The Atlantic will not be annihilated this year, but the success of the great experiment is only postponed for a season. Our readers will remember the elaborate accounts with which we have from time to time presented them, of the manufacture and stowage of the 2,500 miles of cable destined to stretch from shore to shore along the bottom of the Atlantic main. They will not have forgotten the report of that characteristic meeting at Valencia under the genial presidency of Lord Carlisle, when every topic of allusion and amplification that could possibly be pressed into the service was lavishly devoted to the purpose of speeding the great enterprise on its way with appropriate rhetorical embellishments. The original plan of laying down the cable had been that the Agamemnon and Niagara, each with half the length of cable on board, should proceed to an agreed point in the mid-Atlantic, effect a junction between the two detached portions of the line, and thence steam in opposite directions, eastward to Ireland and westward to Newfoundland. This plan was abandoned; and it was determined that the entire length of the vast coil should be spread along the ocean bottom from west to east in one continuous operation.

From Valencia harbor the great ships set forth, the American frigate Niagara having the task assigned her of "paying out" the first portion of the cable. She was waited on through the ocean by the Susquehanna; the famous Agamemnon, her partner in the great enterprise, was attended in like manner by the Cyclops and the Leopard. The first start was an unlucky one. A fracture took place at the distance of less than four miles from the Irish shore. The damage was so serious that the vessel was repaired, and the five vessels again on Saturday, the 8th of August, steamed out into the Atlantic. Till the Monday following all went on prosperously. The weather was favorable, the machinery worked admirably, a depth of 2,000 fathoms had been reached, and some 300 miles of distance. The telegraphic communications with Valencia were kept up without interruption. On Monday evening a heavy swell set in, and a powerful under-current was experienced. This increased through the night of Monday and the early morning of Tuesday. At about 3 1/2 o'clock on Tuesday morning it was found that though the vessel was only making some three or four knots an hour, the cable was paying out five, six, and sometimes even seven knots.

At this rate it was obvious that the quantity of wire on board would be exhausted before the Newfoundland shore was reached. It became necessary to tighten the strain on the cable, and this was accordingly done till the pressure reached 3,000 pounds. This was at 3 1/2 o'clock on Tuesday morning. There was a heavy swell running at the moment that the full increased power was thus put on the break; the stern of the Niagara was low in the trough of the sea. As she rose on the back of the waves the extra strain thus occasioned was more than the strength of the cable could bear. It gave way under the pressure, and, parting at some distance from the ship's stern, it sank down like lead through the mighty waters on that portion of the telegraphic plateau between Ireland and Newfoundland where the Atlantic reaches its maximum depth of not less than 2,000 fathoms. At the time of the severance the Niagara had made from 200 to 280 miles in a direct course from Valencia harbor, and the length of the cable that had been let go was about 380 miles.

It is remarkable enough that a somewhat similar failure has hitherto attended almost all these submarine enterprises in the first instance. The provisions of science are extraordinary, but they cannot quite dispense with the teachings of experience. The general opinion amongst those most qualified to form a judgment appears to be, that we have learned enough in this first essay to render the success of the next attempt morally certain. Two important points have been decisively set at rest by what has already been achieved. The unparalleled length of the cable, and the vast depth to which it was sunk, have presented no obstacles to its telegraphic working; until the final disaster occurred, messages were flashed with the most perfect success along 300 miles length of wire, a portion of which was submerged to the depth of very nearly two miles in the ocean. Another point relates to the rate at which the cable can be paid out. It has been conclusively proved that there is no obstacle to laying it down at the rate of five miles per hour, in the greatest depth of water that exists, on the proposed line of submergence, between Ireland and Newfoundland.

The principal defect appears to be in the "paying out gear," the machinery by which the cable is delivered from the ship's deck into the ocean. Another difficulty to be overcome in sinking a cable of such length to a depth so difficult, and which has probably been more fully demonstrated by the results of this experiment than it could have been by previous calculation—is the great force of the under-current. While the direct course of the Niagara was only about 280 miles, the expenditure of cable was about 380—a difference which a priori could scarcely have been calculated upon. In the next venture every circumstance of this kind will be taken fully into calculation; the mechanism for passing the cable into the water will no doubt receive all those improvements of which it is susceptible, and, if the time be so fortunately chosen as to secure three weeks of favorable weather (a circumstance by no means immaterial), there can be no reason whatever for despairing of ultimate success.

Postage Stamps Cut from Stamped Envelopes are Valueless.—Inquiries continue to be made at the Department why stamps cut from stamped envelopes cannot be used in prepayment of letters in the same manner as ordinary postage stamps. We have been requested to reiterate the decision some time since made by the Postmaster General. The principal reasons why this cannot be permitted are:—

First, the law gives no value to such stamps, and makes no provisions for their use, except when connected with and forming part of the envelopes prepared under the law, with suitable water marks, &c., to prevent frauds. Second, letters in stamped envelopes may be carried outside of the mail, and when so carried, it is believed that the stamps are seldom, if ever, cancelled. These are controlling reasons, and should at once recommend themselves to every reflecting person.—Washington States.

M. Perotin, the Paris publisher, has bought all the furniture and books that were in Beranger's bedroom at the moment of his death. He has ordered his architect to build in his own house a chamber of exactly the same form and dimensions. The paper of Beranger's room will be taken off by means of a damping process, and transferred to the fac-simile apartment, which, when the relics shall be arranged precisely as they were arranged in the post's last day, will be exhibited to the public. The exhibition will doubtless prove as attractive as Rousseau's hermitage at Montmorency.

ROBBING CHILDREN.—The following communication appears in the London Times. Dickens tells a similar story in relation to robberies of children, but it seems the practice is an every-day occurrence in London. The London Times correspondent says:

There are two children, aged 14 and 12 respectively, who every evening leave a house in Hart street, Covent Garden, with instructions to join in play with others more innocent than themselves, and finally to come home to a house of ill-fame. They may be easily recognized; the older is an attractive little girl about 14, dressed in light attire, and her companion, who appears about two years younger, wears a dark brown dress. Two evenings ago, a little boy of respectable parents was unfortunately induced to accompany them home, and from the account he gave, I can only say that the loss of nearly everything of value that he had about him was the least part of the evils he had to detail. Any one may see these children in the neighborhood of Covent Garden.

INDIA.—Atrocious Treatment of European Ladies.—The accounts we are receiving of the torture of the European ladies by the mutineers are heart rending. One letter says:

One of these wretches had part of a lady's dress for his kumbarbund—he had seized a lady from Delhi, stripped her, violated, and then murdered her in the most cruel manner, first cutting off her breasts. He said he was sorry he had not an opportunity of doing more than he had done. Another lady who had been married a bridge, was treated in the same manner, then hacked to pieces, and her mangled remains thrown out on the plain. We found a pair of boots, evidently those of a girl six or seven years of age, with the feet in them. They had been cut off just above the ankle. We hung many other villages and burned the villages as we came along. A man who witnessed the last massacre in Delhi, who had gone there as a spy, gives a horrid account of it, stating that little children were thrown up in the air and caught on the points of bayonets, or cut at as they were falling with ulwars. Another adds: "As soon as the mutineers entered Delhi a great many Englishmen and Englishwomen and children escaped, but numbers could not do so, and those who did not escape were subjected to outrage worse than death. The daughter of an English clergyman was driven through the streets of Delhi naked, then subjected to unspeakable outrages by an infuriated soldiery, and afterward cut to pieces with swords. An English lady in the same city was suspended by the feet naked and hacked to pieces."

"In Delhi six European ladies had taken refuge in a room, one of them, very young and beautiful, concealed herself under a bed, and then, when she was subjected to outrage by the mutinous soldiery, and then beheaded. The blood trickled under the sofa, and the young female concealed there betrayed herself by uttering a shriek. She was seized and taken to the harem of the King of Delhi."

"No one can tell, none but the Almighty, who has no doubt heard the smothered prayer for mercy, can tell what our sisters especially have gone through. The exquisite nature of the torture they inflict has something awful in it. For instance, they dragged forth a poor woman, encinctured, then cut off her breasts, so vilely that the pen cannot depict the horror—and then, a gasping body, they threw her into the jungle to be treated by beasts and birds of prey more merciful than man."

"They burned one whole family, from grandfather to grand children, alive! Others the killed by inches, cutting off the nose, then the ears, then fingers, then toes, etc.; children they killed—little innocent babes."

DEATH OF MRS. CATHARINE VAN RENSSALAER COCHRAN.—The death of this venerable lady is announced in our paper to-day. She died last evening. Although from her advanced age and impaired strength it was known her years could not be much longer protracted, her decease is the occasion of general and sympathetic interest. She was among the oldest of our inhabitants in years, and among the oldest of the residents of our city. She was born at Albany on the 20th February, 1781, the daughter of Major General Schuyler, the great revolutionary patriot, whose name is so illustrious in our revolutionary annals, and for one-half of the last century in all the great events which have left their records in the history of New York. The infant years of Mrs. Cochran's life were passed in Albany, and in the period of the revolution she was exposed to the thrilling incidents of the Mohawk frontier. In 1794—we believe at the instance of President Washington—General Schuyler passed through the Oneida wilderness to Oswego, then still in occupation of a British garrison. His daughter accompanied him and shared in the adventures of what was then a difficult and romantic expedition.

Her first husband was Samuel Malcolm, Esq., son of General Malcolm, an eminent citizen of New York, and a distinguished soldier of the Revolution. He died in early life some forty years since at Utica, where he, with his family, then resided. Several years subsequently, she married our late venerable townsman, Major James Cochran, son of Dr. Cochran, the Surgeon-General of the Revolutionary Army, and with him and her family settled in this place in the year 1825. They cleared the forest for the habitation, which, with her family, she has continued to occupy to the hour of her death. There she has lived for thirty-three years, honored, beloved, and respected by all around her. Honored for her noble family connection, made illustrious by great deeds in our Colonial and Revolutionary history. She was closely allied by blood to the families of Van Rensselaer, Van Cortlandt, and Livingston, and sister-in-law of the late General Alexander Hamilton. She was beloved for her estimable virtues, and her kind and courteous manners, and respected for her mental culture and high intellectual accomplishments.

Mrs. Cochran was baptised on the 4th of March, 1781, by the Rev. Eilaeus Westerlo, of the Dutch Reformed Church, General and Mrs. Washington, James Van Rensselaer, and Margaret Schuyler being her sponsors in baptism. For the last forty years she has belonged to the communion of the Episcopal Church, and has meekly adorned her Christian profession by a life of faith, obedience, and resignation.—Oswego Times, Aug. 27.

A STEAM HOD CARRIER.—Put Used Up.—We stood for a few minutes, yesterday, looking at the operations of a steam hod carrier, at the new building for the Pennsylvania Railroad Company's office, at the corner of Third street and Whiting's alley.—The motive power was a small locomotive-looking steam engine, upon which, although stationary at the time, looked as though it could be moved readily from point to point. A mammoth hod, holding twelve or fifteen times the quantity of bricks and mortar which could be carried by the stoutest laborer, was whisked to the top of the building by the steam hod carrier, with the aid of a crane and a block and tackle. One man attended the engine, another loaded the mammoth hod, a third attended to its safe delivery up-a-ho, and without toil or fuss or sweat the little steam engine did the work of fully fifteen men. After seeing this quiet display of power in a new line, we marvelled much why steam cannot as readily be applied to fire engines as to locomotives, printing presses, weaving, hod-carrying, and, in short, to everything else.

There are some things which steam cannot do, nor would any decent steam engine do them if it could; until steam fire engines can be made to do these things, they will be opposed by certain persons, and they must be expected to be compelled to submit to the withering rebuke and scathing contempt involved in being called "Great steam skivvies."

What We Drink.—The spurious wines of Oporto, recently seized by the Portuguese government, were made of molasses, alcohol, and some coloring substance. Thousands of pipes of this mixture have heretofore been sent to England, to the Continent and elsewhere. The wine confiscated in Paris was made of water, alum, and elderberries.

A lady formerly a resident of Georgia, very much discontented with Mississippi life, and longing to return to her native land, was shouting at a camp meeting last year, and became so excited that she exclaimed, "Glory to God, I feel like I was in Georgia!"

WHITE TEETH, PERFUMED BREATH, AND BEAUTIFUL COMPLEXION—can be acquired by using the "Balm of a Thousand Flowers." What lady or gentleman would remain under the curse of a disagreeable breath, when the using "Balm of a Thousand Flowers" as a dentifrice, would not only render it sweet, but leave the teeth white as alabaster? Many persons do not know their breath is bad, and the subject is so delicate their friends will never mention it. Beware of counterfeits. Be sure each bottle is signed PETRIDGE & CO., N. Y.

Dr. King's Dispensary.

DR. A. KING, a practitioner of New York for the last thirty years, has opened a Dispensary on Market, between First and Second streets, nearly opposite the Graham House, Louisville, for the treatment of Private Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Syphilis, and all diseases of the skin and other derangements growing out of neglect or imperfect cure. His long experience and success enable him to act with confidence. All those who may confide their cases to him may rest assured of having the disease effectually cured and every vestige of the difficulties perfectly eradicated from their constitutions.

STRICTLY OF OLD or recent date effectually cured in a few days by an operation which causes no pain. Where a stricture exists, general derangement of the whole constitution must ensue, a continuance of which will bring on a train of symptoms to be dreaded, and will undermine the constitution and cause premature old age.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.—Particular attention will be given to this disease and all the consequences growing out of it, based on many cases, by the destructive habits of intemperate youth and excessive indulgence of the passions, which undermine the constitution, rendering the subject unfit for either business or society, and causing premature old age.

Persons abroad, by writing and stating their cases, with a fee enclosed (post paid), can have the medicine sent to their address, with necessary directions for using the same.

The strictest secrecy observed in all cases. $11 daily. Office hours at the Dispensary from 9 o'clock to 5 o'clock morning until 9 in the evening.

J. H. McCleary's

NATIONAL TRUNK EMPORIUM,

Corner Main and Fourth sts., Louisville, Ky.

I would respectfully invite the attention of merchants and others visiting the city to my large and elegant assortment of TRUNKS, which I am prepared to offer at least twenty-five per cent. lower than any other establishment in the city. My stock embraces a greater variety of Trunks than is kept by any other house in the Western country. Many of the styles are entirely new and cannot fall to please those in want of a Trunk both as regards price and quality. The many advantages which I possess over the other houses in the city, such as manufacturing my own boxes, finding my own leather, importing my own material, etc., enable me to offer my trunks at much lower prices than any other establishment either in this city or Cincinnati. Merchants and others will be consulting their own interests by giving me a call before making their purchases. Orders promptly attended to. [may 26 d&wjeodwbl]

POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Wednesday, Sept. 2.

Samuel Morehouse, who was arraigned yesterday on a charge of stealing seventy odd dollars from a Mr. Davis, was required to give bail in $600 to answer a charge of felony.

Samuel C. Baker, who had stolen a horse from Shockey, the particulars of which have already been given, was committed in default of giving bail in $600 to answer a charge of felony.

Alonzo Howard was arrested at the theatre night before last as a suspected felon. He has already rendered the State some service in Frankfort. He was sent to the workhouse for six months, in default in giving bail in $400.

Charles Buchanan shared a similar fate. He was found secreted under a bed in the Exchange Hotel, doubtless for robbery.

James S. Hadley, a companion of Baker, was sent to the workhouse as a suspected felon, in default of giving bail in $200 for three months.

James Denman, Wm. Lee, and Wm. Watkins, were the suspected English pickpockets arrested by Officer Bligh. Watkins had his case postponed till to-morrow to prove a good character. The two others gave bail in $800 each for four months.

Isaac Dodrick, stealing clothing from a steamboat, committed, in default of $600 bail, to answer a felony.

THE BRITISH CONSUL FOR NEW YORK.—The British government, it is said, will have to select some other person to be their consul at New York.

Mr. Lousada having declined to accept the office, valuing his position in Cuba, as "British arbitrator of the mixed commission," to be worth more. Under these circumstances, it is not improbable that Mr. Barclay may be restored to his place.

WE are requested to state for the benefit of persons wishing to pass between Louisville and New Albany that the ferry boats between Portland and New Albany make a trip back and forth, at 9 o'clock P. M., and one at 12 o'clock P. M. The cars on the Portland Railroad are run every half hour from dark till midnight.

THE DEFEAT OF PRIORRESS AT LEWES RACES.—The London Star thus comments on the defeat of Mr. Ten Broeck's mare Priorress, at the Lewes Races:

The success of Tournament for the Lewes County Cup yesterday, and the defeat of the American mare Priorress, have created a sensation. The Americans are sorely chagrined, and they regard the inglorious exhibition made by Priorress as humiliating and mortifying. And no wonder, for they openly boasted of the triumph of the "stars and stripes" over the flag of English turf celebrities. At Goodwood a lesson was taught them, for in their overwhelming confidence they allowed their horses to be ridden by native jockeys, totally ignorant of the art and tact exercised by an English rider. Still the boldness of the pace at Goodwood enabled Priorress to "live" with her competitors to nearly a distance from home. At Lewes the case was altered, for the race was to the swift, and Priorress, on whom Brother Jonathan had founded his hopes, was cut down without having a shadow of a chance. The American horses Pryor and Lecomte may, however, yet prove that the reputation which preceded them to this country was not founded on boasting and error.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the Evening Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.

The Attorney General has decided against the extraordinary claims of Haywood, late marshal of Utah, more than $20,000 of which were for conveying the Judges of the Territory to and from the places for holding the courts, the expenses for a numerous guard, horses, wagons, and provisions for these ministerial officers. The expenses of a Judge on his way to court are his own.

AUGUSTA, Sept. 2.

The United States revenue cutter, Roger B. Taney, was struck by lightning on Monday morning when lying off Tybee river. The foretopmast and head of the foremast were shattered, as well as the foremast, and the darkness covered with the fragments. The lightning passed into the hold. The cutter was for a moment in a sheet of flame, but fortunately the fire was subdued without material damage. Some were killed, though several of the crew were stunned by the shock.

AUGUSTA, GA., Sept. 2.

The Baptist Central Association of Georgia, at a recent meeting held in Morgan county, reprobated the action of the American Tract Society in regard to slavery, and recommended the withholding of patronage and the discontinuance of the efforts of its agents in raising funds through colporteurs by the sale of its works until the society recind its action and go back to the original silence on the subject of slavery.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.

The deposit and discount bank of Hatch & Langdon suspended this morning. They had a large number of small depositors, and the excitement is general. They are involved in the failure of Beebe & Co., of New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.

The steamer Vanderbilt, which left Liverpool on the 22d ult., has been signalled, and will be up at 2 o'clock with three days' latest news.

RICHMOND, Sept. 2, 1857.

The Presbyterian Convention adjourned en die, at one o'clock this morning. The preamble and resolutions were all adopted, merely changing the fourth to make the call to the Knoxville Synod the first Thursday in May instead of the third. Resolutions were also adopted expressing the desire of the convention to unite with the Old School, and recommending the Knoxville Synod to invite the General Assembly of the Old School to a fraternal conference with that view.

Factories Stopping.—Many of the mills have discontinued work one-sixth of the time, and others have entirely suspended. The factories in Newmarket have yielded to the pressure of the times and are still and silent; so at Great Falls, N. H., two of the mills have stopped for two months. There are some descriptions of goods that are in demand, and the mills manufacturing them will keep up, but we do not see what is to prevent many others from stopping as soon as they work up their present stock of cotton, though a reduction in the number of mills operating will be favorable to them. What stock they purchased when cotton was lower may be worked up at the present prices of cloths, but where the raw material has to be purchased now, it leaves a margin for profit.—Newburyport Herald.

Mr. Brayman Re-Arrested.—Evidence having been received here fastening, as is alleged, upon James O. Brayman the robbery of the post office drawer of McNally & Co. some three weeks since, and taking therefrom decoy letters containing counterfeit Jamestown (Ind.) bills, he was re-arrested last evening by Deputy United States Marshal Matthews and taken before United States Commissioner Moulton, where he waived examination and gave bail in the sum of $5,000, Rev. F. D. Burroughs and O. G. Carter becoming his sureties. He is now held in $10,000, on both charges, to appear on the 7th inst.—Chicago Press, Sept. 1.
